How Dickens Wrote.

Stephen Blake presents a most interesting pen picture of Dickens, his family and of Gadsdill, where he was a frequent and welcome guest, in The London Home Journal. Of Dickens' method of work Mr. Fiske says: "During my visits Dickens was not at work upon a novel, but he shut himself in Fochter's chateau from 11 a. m. to 8 p. m. almost every day. This was another part of his methodical system. If he felt in the mood he would write an 'Uncommercial Traveller' article. If not, he would answer letters, read All the Year Round proofs, jot down ideas or fill up the time with some sort of literary labor. This, he told me, was his self-discipline. The one room in the chateau on all sides commanding quiet, pleasant views of fields and plantations. He seldom talked of his books, but one rainy day he showed me the bound manuscript of one of them and told me his method of planning a story. Having selected a subject, he would write down the name of the hero and surround it with queries: 'Shall he be rich? Parents or guardians? Debauched of his property? An early lover?' and so on with the other characters as they occurred to him. He always used blue ink, and so did Yates and Halliday and the other writers of what was then 'the Dickens school.' They all called him chief, and he liked the title."

Knowledge.

Much of the value of knowledge depends upon the way it is obtained. Some of it is given to us, and we accept it passively. Some is thrust upon us, and we receive it unwillingly. Some we earn and work for and finally obtain by means of our own thought and researches. Of course in very early childhood knowledge as well as everything else must be given. This is natural and right, and so long as the giver is judicious and not too eager the child's mind will thrive by it. Gradually, however, as his powers unfold, this constant giving loses its value. The time arrives when his mind needs developing, his curiosity awakening, his faculties stimulating, and this work should largely take the place of imparting information. If it be done successfully, he will soon show a desire for knowledge of various kinds and will seek it with avidity, and whatever he gains in this way will become vitalized and a part of himself. It is a slow and gradual process, and we seldom have the patience to pursue it. We have more faith in our systems than in nature's, and we too often treat the child as we would a wild animal, and feed him with a spoon long after he was able to walk and to help himself.—New York Ledger.

The Nurse's Great Danger.

People who are not aware of the conditions do not realize the continual risk incurred by nurses in hospitals, in the operating room and when dressing amputees. In the face of the most stringent precautions, sterilized instruments, antiseptic washes, etc., slight cases of blood poisoning are not uncommon, and the appearance of a nurse with a lamproliferous excema comparatively little remark. The first signs of danger are so quickly detected and treated that there are few fatal cases. A nurse whose infected finger had been lanced to the bone and scraped said cheerfully: "I ought to be thankful that I shall not lose the nail. Miss Sawbones is in a far worse state. Her whole arm is inflamed, and she has lost a thumb nail. She went to bed apparently well, but awoke in an hour or two with shooting pains in her head and arm. However, she's doing well now and will be all right soon."—New York Tribune.

A Barbarous Policy.

After the Dutch had taken the Moluccas from the Portuguese they introduced the cultivation of the clove into their own possessions, cut down all the clove trees of the Moluccas and pronounced death on any one who would plant a single clove bush or gather or sell a pound of the product. Expeditions were sent from their other eastern possessions every year to cut down any bushes that might have accidentally started in the Moluccan islands. This barbarous policy made the islands a desert, for, deprived of their forests, the volcanic soil was washed away, and the population starved or was deported.

Early Days of Coffee.

It is recorded in a "New View of London," published in 1708, that "one James Fair, a barber, who kept the house (which is now the Rainbow) by the Inner Temple gate, one of the oldest in England, was in the year 1667 presented by the request of St. Dunstan's for making and selling a sort of liquor called coffee, to the great nuisance and prejudice of the neighborhood. And who (adds the author) could have thought London would ever have 8,000 such nuisances and that coffee would have been, as now, so much drunk by the first quality and physicians?"

Hands up!" said the footpads as they closed in on Jorkins.

"Ha, ha!" shrieked the victim.

"What do you expect to find? My wife repairs my clothes every night after I retire." And he laughed so heartily that the footpads fled.—Detroit Free Press.

"The world is ever as we take it, and life, dear child, is what we make it."

This was the sentiment of an old lady to her grandchild, Mabel. And many a Mabel has found it to be true, and she has taken care of her health.

She keeps on hand a supply of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and so is not troubled with those wasting diseases, weaknesses, "dragging-down" sensations and functional irregularities that so many women endure.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion. As a factor in its remedial results as in its composition.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, particularly to the womb and its appendages. For feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

A Book of 200 pages, telling how to cure these diseases by home-treatment, sent FREE on receipt of 21 cents in stamps for postage and wrapping only. This book is profusely illustrated with wood-cuts and colored plates, also with a vast number of reproduced photographs of those cured by the use of this "Favorite Prescription" without having to go through the ordeal of consulting a doctor. Full names and addresses are given so you can correspond with them. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 655 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SILVER PARTY PLATFORM.

Adopted at Elko, Nevada, September
8, 1896.

The Silver party of Nevada, in State Convention assembled, does affirm its allegiance to those great essential principles of justice and liberty upon which our institutions are founded, viz: Freedom of speech; freedom of the press; freedom of conscience; the preservation of personal rights; the equality of all citizens before the law, and the faithful observance of constitutional limitations.

We pledge our earnest and active support to William J. Bryan for President, and to Arthur Sewall for Vice President of the United States.

We heartily endorse the platform of the National Silver party adopted at St. Louis, July 25th, 1896.

We declare the restoration of silver to the place accorded it as a money metal by the founders of the Government, to be the paramount issue.

We demand the remonetization of silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be full legal tender equally with gold for all debts, public and private, and we favor such legislation as will prevent for the future the demonetization of any kind of legal tender money by private contract.

We are opposed to the issuing of Government interest bearing bonds in time of peace, and we demand that the Government officials, the servants of the people, shall use the option given them by law to redeem all obligations in gold or silver coin.

We demand the abolition of National banks, and the issuance of all money direct by the Government.

We demand the collection of the indebtedness of the Pacific Railway Companies to the United States, as it matures, without extension of time or charge of terms or conditions.

We demand Government ownership of telegraph lines and railroads.

We demand the enforcement of the Interstate Commerce Act.

We demand legislation excluding foreign paupers, criminals, and contract labor.

We pledge the fostering care of the State to our public schools and the State University, of which we are justly proud, and favor such legislation as will increase their efficiency.

We cordially invite the co-operation of all true silver men of all parties in the ensuing election, and hereby pledge the electoral vote of Nevada to Thomas E. Watson, should it appear that the election for the Vice Presidency be between him and Garret A. Hobart, the gold trust nominee.

We denounce the hypocrisy and double-dealing of the Republican party of Nevada, which, on May 10, 1893, declared for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, independent of any other nation, as the only means of restoring prosperity to the country, and on June 18, 1896, declared that the restoration of silver would create a panic and demoralize the business of the country.

We approve the bill passed at the last session of the United States Senate, now pending in the House of Representatives, relative to contempt in Federal courts, and providing for trials by jury in certain cases of contempt. We are in favor of arbitration of the differences between employers engaged in Inter-state commerce and their employees and recommend such legislation as is necessary to carry out this principle.

Recognizing the just claims of union soldiers, we heartily endorse the rule of the present Commissioner of Pensions that no name shall be arbitrarily dropped from the pension roll, and that the fact of enlistment and service should be deemed conclusive evidence against disease and disability before enlistment.

WATERWAYS AND RAILROADS.

The Federal Government should care for and improve the Mississippi River and other great waterways, and should own the great trunk lines of railway and improve and operate them so as to secure for the interior States easy and cheap transportation to tide water. When any waterway or trunk line railway is of sufficient importance to demand aid of the Government, such aid should be extended upon a definite plan of continuous work until permanent improvement is secured.

VOLUME OF MONEY.

The volume of money in circulation should be speedily increased and always be fully adequate for the requirements of business. It should be increased to an amount that will enable us to build our railroads, open our mines and develop our vast resources without dependence upon the money lenders of Europe.

PUBLIC OFFICE.

A public office is a public trust. No person or party should be trusted who has once violated that trust.

ELECTIVE FRANCHISE.

We denounce the purchase and sale of the elective franchise as destructive of our liberties, and favor the strict enforcement at all future elections of the law passed at the last session of the Legislature, known as the Purity of Elections law; and recommend that all candidates for the Legislature be required by their constituents to pledge themselves against a repeal of the law or any modification that will impair its efficiency.

UNITED STATES SENATORS.

We are in favor of an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, providing for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people of their respective States.

UNITED STATES SENATORS AND MEMBER OF CONGRESS.

The able and efficient services of Senators Stewart and Jones and Congressman Newlands in the Congress of the United States in behalf of all interests that promote the welfare of our people are worthy of the indorsement of every patriotic citizen of the State, and we are in favor of the election of Hon. John P. Jones for United States Senator.

Resolved, That the Silver Party was organized for the purpose of securing the remonetization of silver and that we are opposed to any effort to disorganize it until silver is remonetized.

THAT FLOOD OF SILVER.

The single gold standard men pretend to fear that the United States would be flooded with silver if its mints were open for the free coinage of the metal. For eighty-one years from the establishment of the mint in 1792 to 1873, any person, irrespective of race or sex, could take a bar of silver bullion to any of the United States mints and get its value in silver coins, less fixed charges for mintage, at the rate of $1 20 20 per ounce. Was the country flooded with silver during all those years? The most obdurate gold-bug will be compelled, however reluctant, to answer in the negative. Was there a day or an hour in all those years when a dollar containing 37 1/2 grains of silver was worth less than 100 cents? Mr. McKinley nor any other of Mr. Hanna's men, whether East or West, can truthfully answer yes. Is not the experience of eighty-one years worth more than the predictions of frothy orators who know no more about the future than those who are not in the service of the gold syndicate?

What country, if any, in ancient or modern times had too much silver? If there ever was such a country history fails to mention where it was located, or tell us that its people suffered because of a flood of silver.

Statisticians say that all the gold coin in the world would only make a cube of 23 feet, that is a room 22 feet long, 22 feet wide and 22 feet high would hold all the gold in the world. All the silver in the world could be placed in a cube about sixteen times as large as the gold cube. Would that make a flood if it was all coined and in circulation in the United States that would endanger the country? Statisticians say it would amount to about $65 for each inhabitant of the United States. Who doubts our ability to withstand such a flood, and who among the masses of the people would not rejoice at such a flood?

But there is no danger of such a silver freshet as Mr. Hanna's hired prophets predict. Silver is worth more in Europe than it is in the United States, and Asia has been known for years as the buying ground for silver. It is the bourse from which no silver coins return. Silver brought here from foreign countries and coined at our mints would have to be invested here, as it would be worth less in American coins in Europe than before it was brought here. Silver is the money of the masses. It is the money which supports the churchmen who are crying out against its coinage. It is the money handled by those who deal in the common necessities of life, because it is the money of the people. Are those who are working from one week's end to the other for silver afraid they will get too much of it, and that they will have to work less time to get all they want of it?

Would it not be better for the nation and the State to have thousands of men employed digging silver from our hills and have our mints coining it into legal tender money wherewith to pay our debts and purchase the necessities and comforts of life than to have men vainly seeking employment and our factories closed because the people have not money to buy their products, almost everybody whose credit is good running in debt, and the nation mortgaged every few months to the gold syndicate to maintain the gold reserve in the Treasury?

To-day our State is being depopulated, the selling price of real estate constantly getting less, and taxes getting higher, because silver cannot be produced at the price which Europe pays for it for use abroad, and our Government will not coin it for use at home. The gold trust is satisfied with this condition of affairs and is forcing all who are in its clutches and employing all those services are for sale to endeavor by sophistry to make the people believe that it is good for them. Will the masses follow their advice and vote to perpetuate existing conditions, or declare with Bryan for an American financial system that will emancipate the people from the fetters of the plutocracy?

WATCH FOR A FAKE PANIC.

The people have been expecting that the half-dozen men who control nearly all the gold coin in the world would create a panic before election day if, in the opinion of Mr. Hanna, it is deemed advisable from a political standpoint. The New York Journal directs attention to this matter and says it is not to be presumed that a man of Mr. Hanna's resources in money and influence will leave undone anything that has in it the smallest promise of a reaction against the western Bryan boom. It has already been proved, says the Journal, that a great many bankers, insurance men and other handlers of other people's money are ready at a signal from him to move in concert for the advancement of McKinley's prospects. The country may, therefore, be prepared for the appearance before election of a widespread attempt to inspire the fear that Bryan's election would mean an overturning of the financial institutions of the country. The Journal says it is poor business for banks, insurance companies and manufacturing establishments to be in this of getting up scares for political effect. They did it in 1893 to compass the repeal of the Sherman Silver purchase Act and the prosperous times that were predicted, as the sure result of closing the mints to silver have not yet arrived. Pretended panics are liable always to become real panics. That is a consideration which should not be lost on the narrow-browed financiers who betray their trust by juggling with the interests of their clients in order to oblige Boss Hanna and make votes for McKinley.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Mrs. Amy A. Price, a young widow, committed suicide by shooting herself in the breast.

The boycott of afternoon papers in San Francisco by the newsboys has caused the proprietors much loss and annoyance. The newsboys say they will not allow a newspaper to be sold on the streets until their demands are granted.

W. L. Lee, a prominent citizen of York, Nebraska, is under arrest charged with having insured the life of A. B. Sell, a friend, for $10,000 and arranging to wreck the train on which he was a passenger in order to secure the insurance.

December wheat sold on the stock exchange at Chicago yesterday at 73 1/2 then fell to 72, then advanced to 74 and closed at 75 1/2 cents per bushel. There was also much excitement on change in San Francisco, May wheat selling at $1 50 per cental.

The San Francisco custom house officials have discovered that United States Treasury seals have been used by unauthorized persons about Chinatown and other parts of the city and that the last one of the private dies of the Government is missing.

McKinley talked to several delegations at Canton yesterday. He said free coinage would decrease the circulation of the country. In other words we would have less dollars than we have now, yet they would be worth only 53 cents. That is logical from a gold standpoint.

Dr. R. S. Canlins of the First Methodist Church of San Jose, California, read telegrams of condolence to his widow and answered them himself. The report reached Southern California that he was dead and it was published in the Los Angeles papers, and the minister does not know how the report got out as he is well.

LASSEN COUNTY VOTE.

The Estimates Now Made of It.

EDITOR JOURNAL—As a certain Reno newspaper appears to be extending its "straw vote" scheme into this county, will say that our woods and valleys are full of Bryan men, but few of them travel by rail. No free excursion to Canton to visit McKinley has as yet been tendered to the people of Lassen county.

At the last State election the candidates on the Republican State ticket carried the county from 44 to 200 majority. It is now predicted that Bryan will have 200 majority. At all events it is true that certain parties offer to wager that the Bryan Electors will have 190 majority in Lassen on November 3d next. Respectfully, B. S. Susanville, Cal., October 16, 1896.

Answer—By law one troy ounce of gold has a standard value of twenty dollars, sixty-seven and eighteen hundredths cents.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND'S DECLARATION.

One of His Own Faith Replies to it.

The declaration of Archbishop Ireland for the gold standard has aroused the clergy of his faith in St. Louis, who have hitherto kept out of the turmoil of politics. Archbishop Kahn, who is known to sympathize with the free silver cause, said, "I am a churchman and not a politician." Father Fielding in his paper, The Western Watchman, answers Archbishop Ireland editorially and the following are extracts from his reply:

Archbishop Ireland is a phenomenon. If secession next November shows his horrid face, he will be responsible. We believe, however, it will not be necessary to resort to a draft to the surgeons or chaplains.

Archbishop Ireland is always spectacular and Frenchy in his entrance on the political stage. A man of Archbishop Ireland's party called three names in the campaign of 1884, and the Republicans lost the country. We strongly believe that "Ireland and Apomox" in 1896 will do for McKinley what "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" in 1884 did for Blaine. The three blizzard of the northwest has nipped all the flower of Republican hope in the blue grass country. Archbishop Ireland is a good saint among the bankers, but a poor banker among the saints. People who do not know Archbishop Ireland, intimate that he is on the Republican National Committee's $4,000 a day pay-roll. He gets nothing for his work in the cause of gold.

The great tribune of other days sold himself into slavery to Wall street, when in 1892 he borrowed a half million dollars. If the cause were not so hopeless he might turn the tide in favor of gold. But of two things he will never be able to convince the people. He cannot convince them that money is not a good thing, and he cannot convince them that silver is not money. He says Archbishop Walsh agrees with them. The Archbishop of Dublin is a bimetalist, and he defines bimetalism to be the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, or thereabouts. It has built all the churches in the diocese of St. Paul since the present Archbishop has governed it. It has furnished bread and meat to the thousands of orphans Archbishop Ireland has supported. It has purchased his own bread and butter. It is the only money that has jingled in the pockets of his people in a quarter of a century. He loves the poor; how can he hate the poor's best and only friend?

Archbishop Ireland calls Bismarck a wily old fox, who wants to ruin this country. Bismarck is now on the brink of the grave, and his language breathes the spirit of good to all men. The man who could charge him with evil motives now attacks the setting of a chastened and forgiving soul. Archbishop Ireland gives us the cause and reason for hard times. The good Archbishop might spare himself the trouble. We all know what makes hard times. It is want of money. Did any one ever see hard times when people had plenty of money? We know why we have no money. The bankers locked it up on us. But we know where to get more. In the ground, thank God.

MR. BECK AND THE SCHOOL BONDS.

It Was Well Known That He Was Against the Issuance of Any Kind of Bonds.

In answer to the assault of our neighbor on Mr. H. H. Beck, the Silver party and Democratic nominee for County Commissioner, the JOURNAL desires to call the attention of the public to the following facts:

Two years ago Mr. Beck canvassed the county as a candidate for the Legislature. The people at that time were opposed to the issuance of bonds, and Mr. Beck publicly declared on several occasions that he was opposed to bond issues. He was elected by the largest majority ever given a candidate for the position in Washoe county. After the general election and before the Legislature convened an election was held to determine whether bonds to the amount of $10,000 should be issued for building an annex to the brick school house. At that election there were 181 votes cast in favor of issuing the bonds in a precinct that polled about 1,100 votes six weeks previous at the general election. Is that the overwhelming majority to which our neighbor refers?

We interviewed Mr. Beck on the subject and his answer simply was that he was virtually pledged against bond issues, and he would submit the matter to his colleagues, Dr. Hogan, Mr. Flannigan and Colonel Stanley, and take their version of the bond issue rather than the more or less colored statement of the Gazette. That he voted against the Bond Act is no secret and never was.

Mr. Beck also suggests that he spends his own money about as liberally as any one in Washoe county and as evidence of this refers to the fact that he and his old partners, Mr. Lake and William Thompson, built three flour mills in Reno, and that he alone rebuilt the Reduction Works at a cost to him of over $25,000. He also says that if the people of Washoe county want a lavish expenditure of public funds for jobbery and favorites they had better not vote for him, as he is not inclined that way.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE PEOPLE'S GLADIATOR.

A Deserved Tribute to a Remarkable Man.

History nor tradition gives no account of such a remarkable man as William Jennings Bryan in many respects. Without ancestral prestige or the aid of wealthy or influential family relations, without the glittering epaulettes or gleaming sword of a military hero or the bloody field of human slaughter, his name and fame circumscribes the globe. But yesterday he was known among his neighbors as the "Boy Orator and Stripling of the Platte" today, at the age of thirty-six years, unassuming, modest to femininity, but conscious of the rectitude of his purpose and the strength of the vital and unsailable principles of the cause he espouses, he leaps into the national arena of intellectual combat at Chicago as a forensic athlete and achieves a victory over all comers such as has never been equaled by or accorded to any other man in any age or country.

To detract from his brilliant achievements and intellectual superiority, the minions of his antagonists and the enemies of his cause declared that in that contest he had spent his strength and was a man of only one speech. But he has demonstrated the fact that upon that occasion his arguments, although unanswered and unanswerable, were but the introductory remarks to his subsequent campaign of logic, argument and oratory. Practically, the domain of civilization is the rostrum from which he electrifies the great throbbing heart of humanity. Whether he addresses 20,000 shouting people of North Dakota or 100,000 applauding braves of New York, his "words that burn and thoughts that breathe" are flashed by the electric current over mountain and under sea to admiring multitudes in every civilized land and clime, giving new aspirations and renewed hope to the toiling millions of wealth producers. When he closes this campaign for American independence, a American self-respect and American manhood at Lincoln, Nebraska, on the night of the second day of November, he will have traveled in ninety days a distance equal to the circumference of the earth, and if he keeps up his present rate will have addressed the immense outpouring of the people along the line, on an average once in every four hours during each day and night of his journey.

Such a man with such mental and physical forces and persuasive eloquence, with the cause of his country, its constitution and humanity as his aspirations, cannot be dismayed or defeated by bell and all its mercenary forces and imps of perdition, who, for warty swag and Wall Street boodle follow the lead of the goldbug anarchists, Hanna, Sherman, Cleveland and Carlisle, and join in the Republican chorus for America's submission to English domination on American soil.—Silver State.

What An Old Republican Says.

R. G. Crum, the father-in-law of W. M. Van Buren, recently went to Chicago with a train load of sheep. Chicago was his old home. He has many relatives and acquaintances in the city who informed him of the political situation. There are many large Republican Clubs in the city, all composed of Republicans who severed their connection with the party for the country's good. They see it is a fight between the masses and the classes. The plutocrats may attempt to conceal this, but it is a fact nevertheless. He believes the farmers, the business men of limited means and the working people generally will vote for Bryan as the only salvation of the country. There is a political revolution in the Mississippi Valley and the millions contributed to Hanna's corruption fund cannot suppress it. It is a struggle for mankind, for independence on the part of the people and the belief in Chicago is that the people will win.

BRYAN AND NEWLANDS.

They Addressed an Immense Audience in Detroit Last Night.

William Jennings Bryan and Congressman Newlands addressed a large audience at the Auditorium in Detroit last night. The meeting was one of the largest ever held in the city and standing room was at a premium. The enthusiasm was unbounded, the immense audience applauding every telling point made by the speakers, and they were many.

It is one of the peculiarities of the campaign in Nevada that men who claim to be for Bryan for President are endeavoring to defeat Mr. Newlands, who is assisting him. This is unfair to both gentlemen, but it is reasonable to assume that the efforts to defeat Mr. Newlands will be unavailing, as the people fully appreciate his services to the cause they are advocating.

A couple of hobos assaulted two Chinamen at the lower end of the depot yesterday and used them roughly. The supposition is that it was an attempt at robbery.

J. O. Davenport, Ont.; Miss E. Long-abough and Mrs. Bear, Empire; D. Trotter, Boca; M. Longjohn, Plumas, and T. G. Herman, Wadsworth, were guests at the Reno last night.

The ladies of the Congregational Church are making extensive preparations to give a Christmas fair and bazaar about the middle of December. The affair will be an elaborate one and something new in the way of entertainment. Particulars as to date and other details will be announced at an early day.

The Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House has a special sale for one week which ought to be of great interest to the ladies, namely: Ladies fine Kersey cloth capes in tan, black and mode color at the very low price of $5, worth $8; and ladies sealotte capes, silk lined and fur trimmed, made of fine quality Sult's sealotte and very large sweep, in style and up to date at the price of only $7.50, usual price $12.50. This special is for only one week and ladies should remember that the quantity of these capes is limited.

Populists at the Court House.

A small audience gathered at the Court House last evening, the occasion being a meeting in accordance with an announcement that Rev. Thos. Magill would speak on the political issues of the day. Dr. Hogan was chosen as Chairman and excellent music was furnished by Mrs. Layton and several young ladies.

Counter Attractions.

"Bronco Jack," the cowboy preacher, drew an audience of nearly a thousand people on Virginia street last night and Chief Justice Bigelow spoke at the McKinley and Hobart Club to an audience of fifty-two persons, eleven of whom were candidates on the Republican State and county tickets, seven aspirants for federal positions, three Democrats, four Silver men and four visitors from adjoining towns.

The poet of the Sierras, Juanquin Miller, lectured at the Assembly Hall of the State University last evening. There was not as large an attendance as was expected owing to several other attractions in town. His talk was not upon any set subject but touched on various matters concerning his life and experience in the Sierras. He spoke words of advice and encouragement to the young, and during the address was accorded the closest attention. He is an impressive speaker and at times became eloquent. His appearance is striking and fully bears out the general idea of his eccentric nature.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

M. G. Callionette, Druggist, Bozerville, Ill., says: To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail, and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use, and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Coal of Fire.
A prominent police court magistrate, passing one day through the city and not being pressed for time, availed himself of the outside of an omnibus instead of patronizing the more aristocratic cab.
"All fares, please!" came the familiar cry, when, thrusting his hand into his pocket, the ornament of the magistrical bench discovered, to his consternation, that he had come out without a fathoming of money.

An explanation of the state of affairs was proceeding and being taken in very ill part by the conductor when a man, sitting near, suddenly pulled out 2 pounds from his waistcoat pocket and said:
"Here, I'll pay for you."

The ticket was duly punched and handed over, whereupon the gentleman, moving nearer his benefactor, said:
"I am greatly indebted to you. Kindly let me have your name and address."
But to his debtor's great surprise this was persistently refused.

Arrived at a certain street corner, however, the man, as he moved toward the stairs, looked the magistrate full in the face and said, with a nod that meant, "How's that for heaping coals of fire?"

"Look up your old chug-o sheets for my name, yet worship. You'll find that you gave me three women's hand 11m

A New Term of Street Art
Street art, performed by "screwers," on the pavement is undergoing a transformation. People have become tired of the dabs intended to represent salmon on a plate or blue sausages or ties unknown to botany, and the artists in chalk have experienced very hard times of late in consequence of the chaotic situation to throw copper into the artistic pots drawn for their reception.

A "screw" who for the present has located himself in Gray's Inn 1st has devised a new plan for embellishing the footpath and instructing people in the same time.

Instead of making pictures he gives lessons in finger-tunes, using the pavement as a kind of blackboard. How the new art in that language the name of, by one who desires it and any sentence that may be requested.

He explains the family alphabet to those who may be interested in the subject of a halpion and conjugates on its verbs in the singular and plural.
This picture may not be so gorgeous in color as those of his predecessors, but it has the merit of usefulness, it teaches who contemplate a voyage to the continent up to date "Receivers" appear as a life of considerable value to the school of language. —Pearson's

It Made Her Angry.
"It's strange how easily some women seem to get angry," said the divorcement thoughtfully.
"What's the matter now?" asked the householder.

"Why, there's that woman with the upright piano in the flat next to mine,
you know."

"Yes. What of her?"
"She has played one tune 18 times a day for the last three months."

"Of course. Nearly all women who play apartment building pianos do that.
You can move, you know, if you don't like it."

"Well, you don't want to do that. It might seem rude, and we didn't want to hurt her feelings, so we just got her a new song and sent it to her with the compliments of all the other tenants.
And, do you know, she's mad as a hot net about it."

"What was the title of it?"
"Soft and Low," I think. Something like that anyway." —Chicago

A Gastronomical Experiment That Failed
Two French epicures living near Toulon were not satisfied with the flavor given to the turkey by its stuffing of truffles and recently determined to try whether the truffle flavor could not be imparted to the bird by a proper system of diet. They selected a fat young turkey and fed it for two months with the most delicate truffles that the south of France could produce. The turkey seemed to enjoy the experiment, and at the end of the two months the bird was killed, roasted carefully and deliciously brought upon the table. When at the epicure's eagerly took a bite and found to his disgust that the turkey had absolutely no truffle flavor.—

The Severest Test
The severest test of manhood is never found in good times, but only in hard times. It is not the man who has success when others are doing well, but it is the man who keeps up his courage and struggles on when everybody else is wavering or going down who is the hero in the sight of God and man. It is a very matter to make good times when both wind and tide are in one's favor or when one is moving with the current, but it requires character, and skill and daring to make head in spite of opposition forces or to work successfully against the current.—Exchange.

She Admires a Warrior.
The Matutak girl is not devoid of sentiment. On the contrary, she has the greatest pride in the exploits of the man
she marries. He may be old, toothless, with one leg, in the case and the other feebly tingling with amputation, but if he can move in his assegai the blood of many victims he is the greatest old bear in the kral.

Inquisitive.
"Little Johnny opened his drum eye today to find where the nose came from."
"Did he find out?"
"Yes. When his father came home, the nose came from little Johnny." — Toronto Globe.

The customs at the court of Monteu-gro seem very primitive judging from an incident at a recent dinner party.
The prince and his guests were sitting in the dining hall, when the servants entered, bringing in an enormous bon-roasted whole, which they placed on the table. The prince and his guests drew near, and at a sign from his highness a young officer drew his sword and with one stroke cut through the hog, through the tablecloth and deep into the table. Inside the bone was a turkey and inside the turkey a snipe, which had been shot by the prince, and it is said to have acquired a most delicate flavor from its manner of cooking.—

The Whale's Mouth.
The whale's mouth is the largest installation of the kind in the animal kingdom, being capable of containing over two hogheads of water. The whale's throat, however, is so small that an orange would scarcely pass through it, and he lives on the minute sea animals contained in the water.
Drawing in a large quantity, he strains it through his whalebone sieve, retaining the animal organisms it contains and throwing out the water through circular holes in his head. Whales engaged in feeding are said by whalers to be "mouthing."
